Originally built during an era of worldwide technical advancement between 1930 and 1937, but by 1938 the J Class Yachts were almost extinct. Three yachts survived from the ten that were built. This new book is a detailed account of the development of the Class, primarily from 1996 when author, David Pitman, first became involved with the rebuild of Velsheda and sailed and raced onboard her for 16 years. He was Secretary of the Class Association for more than 12 years and primarily responsible for the rebirth of the Class, from the launch of a new RANGER in 2002, then HANUMAN, LIONHEART and finally RAINBOW in 2012. It is packed with many technical and sailing images of these iconic yachts. Other J Class Yachts, including SVEA are now under construction or in design stage. The book details an account of the build process, the technical development of the yachts, the crewing and the Class Association. This book continues the detailed story of the J Class Yachts covered by the book Enterprise to Endeavour, written by Ian Dear
