The Library Room Kimberly Loving Ross

Loren must research a two thousand year plus mystery. With the help of her friends in The Library Room they must prove or disprove Jesus is the Messiah. Giles, her live-in boyfriend, won't be happy about Loren's assignment concerning God. How long can she hide what she's working on from him? He resents the changes he's seeing in her attitude. How far will he go to make her stop talking about her project or working on it? Is a difference in beliefs the only issue they have in their relationship? Her friends bring a diverse blend of religious beliefs to her project. They will need to learn about each other's religions in order to agree as a team their outcome. The research causes each of them to question and defend their own faiths. Will it make you question yours too? How will Loren and her friends react as they realize a history full of prophecy, scandal, and murder, in the books they've grown up reading? Will this agreeing to disagree divide their group or draw them closer together as friends? Who is right and who is wrong? They all can't be right? Right?
